

THESE are the shocking pictures monster mom Casey Anthony doesn't want you to see - because they're sure to seal her fate, say sources!

As evil Casey awaits her October trial on charges of slaying her adorable 2-year-old daughter Caylee last June, she's desperate to keep lurid photos of herself from ever being released.

"These bombshell photos provide irresistible information jurors will want to wrap their minds around," L.A. prosecutor Robin Sax, who co-hosts an Internet radio show called Justice Interrupted, tells GLOBE.

They prove the twisted 23-year-old didn't give a damn about Caylee and will help get her convicted of first-degree murder, say insiders.

Sax candidly adds the shots answer how her own mother could murder a child as innocent as Caylee: "Casey is unbelievably selfish."

Casey, who is in jail in Orlando, Fla., had a cruel double motive for killing her daughter, says Sax: "To exact revenge on mom Cindy for bonding too closely to Caylee and to rid herself of the responsibilities of motherhood."

Many of Casey's shameful partying pictures were taken in 2007 before Caylee's June 16, 2008, disappearance - and include sordid shots of drunken Casey urinating in a public parking lot, throwing up in a toilet bowl and suggestively cavorting with guys and gals.

Most damning of all is a photo of Caylee reportedly placed in Casey's online photo album just days after the tot disappeared. It features a red heart just like the sticker on the duct tape the killer had put across her mouth. Sources say "Casey's signature" heart sticker sheets and matching duct tape were found in her home.

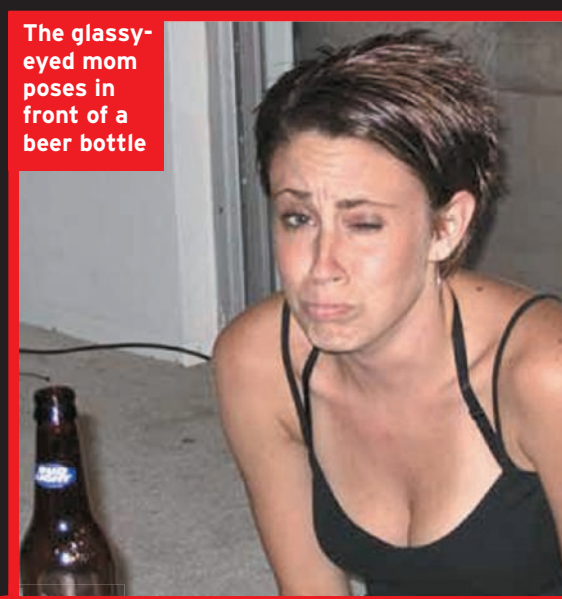

Casey's lawyers tried - and failed - to get a judge to seal the explosive images stored on her Internet photo-sharing account at www.photobucket.com, and for good reason, say experts.

"These terrible photos, some taken just days after her daughter died, show how callous and uncaring Casey is," Sax tells GLOBE. "Casey's smiling face in the photos is the face of evil - and when jurors see her pictures, her fate will be sealed."

THANK GOD I WON'T REMEMBER ANY OF THIS IN THE MORNING.
